

Amira El-Shal

E: amira.elshal.1@city.ac.uk
amira.elshal@icloud.com

Areas of Expertise

Economic impact evaluation of public policies
Effectiveness of health sector interventions on maternal and child health
Decision making in the healthcare sector in low- and middle-income countries

Education

- 2017 PhD Economics, City, University of London
Thesis: The Effects of Health Sector Reform Interventions in Egypt on Family Planning and Maternal and Child Health
Supervisors: Prof Mireia Jofre-Bonet and Dr Patricia Cubi-Molla
- 2010 MSc Economics, University College London
Thesis: The Spillover Effects of the Global Financial Crisis on Economic Activity in Emerging Economies - Investigating the Egyptian Case Using the Financial Stress Index
- 2008 MSc Economics (Coursework), Faculty of Economics and Political Science, Cairo University (Distinction)
Thesis: The Tradeoff between Unemployment and Inflation: Applying Rational Expectations to the Egyptian Case
- 2007 BSc (Hons) Economics, Faculty of Economics and Political Science, Cairo University (First in Order of Merit)
Thesis: The Impact of Privatization on the Financial Performance of Companies: An Empirical Analysis of the Egyptian Cement Sector

Professional Experience

- 2017- Lecturer
Economics Department, Faculty of Economics and Political Science, Cairo University (Egypt)
- 2008-2017 Lecturer Assistant
Economics Department, Faculty of Economics and Political Science, Cairo University (Egypt)
- 2006 Economic Researcher
Mubasher (Egypt)
- 2006 Research Assistant Intern
Egyptian Center for Economic Studies (Egypt)
- 2005 Editor Assistant Intern
Al-Ahram Al-Iqtisadi (Egypt)
- 2005 Assistant Private Banker Intern
Credit Department, National Bank of Kuwait (Egypt)