

- 1- Use of levosimendan in heart failure patients undergoing major lower limb vascular surgery . Egyptian cardiothoracic anesthesia journal 2008. Single author.
- 2- Comparison of labor analgesia with epidural bupivacaine versus intravenous pethidine. Effect on the operative delivery rate. Egyptian journal of clinical sciences December 2016 .single author
- 3- Oral dexmedetomidine versus oral midazolam as premedication in children medical journal of ain shamas university. July 2018
- 4- The effect of the administration of epinephrine to heparin infusion on prothrombin F(1+2) and fibrinopeptide A during total hip replacement. A study done on patients undergoing total hip replacement.
- 5- Comparison between 6% hydroxyl starch 130/0.4 (voluven) and 4% gelatin (gelofusine) for intravascular volume replacement in pediatric patients.
- 6- Enhancement of the local anesthetic effect of levobupivacaine by the addition of clonidine to cervical plexus block in carotid endarterectomy cases January 2008.
- 7- Continuous intraoperative high state and response entropies reduced desflurane emergence agitation in pediatric laproscopic surgery. April 2008 egyptian journal of anesthesia.
- 8- Comparison of lumbar epidural tramadol and lumbar epidural morphine for perioperative pain management for dorsla spine surgery . December 2007 medical journal of cairo university.

9- Comparison of laryngeal tube and laryngeal mask airway during controlled ventilation in paralysed anesthetized pediatric patients. Egyptian journal of anesthesia November 2007.