

Abstract:

The title is "Walking and Running in ancient Egypt until the end of thirtieth Dynasty (philological and archaeological)"

It consists of two parts, six chapters and a conclusion. The first part includes walking in ancient Egypt. It consists of three chapters. The first chapter deals with words and phrases referring to walking in ancient Egyptian texts. The second chapter deals with walking in ancient Egyptian Profane Life.

As to the third chapter, it presents the walking in ancient Egyptian Religious Thoughts.

The second part is running in ancient Egypt. It consists of three chapters. The first chapter deals with words and phrases referring to Running in ancient Egyptian Texts. The second chapter deals with Running in ancient Egyptian Profane Life.

As to the third chapter, it presents the Running in ancient Egyptian Religious Thoughts.

Finally, comes the conclusions as Comparing between two parts.