

Back to Nature Spotlight on Cancer Therapeutics

About-Enein, Ahmed M.; Shalaby, Emad A.; Abul-Ela, Faten; Nasr-Allah, Amr A.; Mahmoud, Ali M.; El-Shemy, Hany A.; Al-Abd, Ahmed M.

Abstract

The article presents several well-known compounds from active natural products that reveal promising activity against cancer. Several reports have showed potential anti-cancer or anti-proliferative effects of resveratrol, a natural polyphenol discovered in red grape seed, against many types of cancer. A study by researchers at Jami'at al-Qahirah in Egypt distinguished nine compounds from water hyacinth which showed promising anticancer and antioxidant properties.

Published In: Drug Discovery & Development; Jun 2011 Supplement, Vol. 14, p8